Day 3 - Buenos Aires: day at leisure. In the evening enjoy Dinner and Tango show at Esquina Carlos Gardel. Your transfers to the venue are on a shared basis. This show takes place in an imposing room located in the heart of Abasto neighborhood, Gardel's neighborhood. In the past, the hotel and restaurant "Chanta Cuatro" stood in its place, and was one of the "zorzal criollo's" (criollo thrush, the way Gardel was called) favorite spots to meet his friends. While dinner is served, a screen situated on stage shows the phases tango went through, emphasizing Gardel's era. The narration and images combine scenes of productions of those times, which fall under the Golden Age of the Argentine movie industry. The show is mainly in charge of the sextet "El Desquite", composed by two violins, two large accordions (bandoneon), a double bass and a piano, conducted by Erica di Salvio and Fulvio Giraudo, and accompanied by brilliant singers who are invariably Gardel's followers. Besides, the performance of five couples of dancers (with several costume changes), completes this remarkable show. For the dinner show option, pick up is around 8-8:30pm. It is scheduled to last until 11:50pm. Accommodation.
